

HIVE

A flexible acoustic curtain divider that supports collaboration, focus, and privacy inside open spaces.

A “beehive” is never just a shelter. It is a place where movement, focus, rhythm, and productivity all come together. Hive takes that idea from nature and puts it into the modern workspace. It creates soft, flexible acoustic zones inside open spaces, giving people a place to meet, think, call, or collaborate. Like its name, Hive is designed for people to gather, work, produce, and thrive. Not away from the workspace, but within it.

Soft Zones for Open Workspaces

Hive creates defined pockets inside open spaces, supporting collaboration, team meetings, and conversations in a more comfortable work environment.

Open When Needed. Enclosed When Needed.

Hive gives open spaces the flexibility to shift from collaboration to focused work and semi-private conversations.

Designed to Belong

With soft forms, warm fabrics, and refined finishes, Hive feels less like an intervention and more like a natural part of the workspace.

Built for Changing Workplaces

Ideal for offices, coworking spaces, lounges, breakout zones, libraries, education spaces, and hospitality work areas.

Make It Your Own

Hive can be accessorised for different ways of working. With a TV mount, whiteboard, and hanger, it becomes more personal, more functional, and more alive

Flexible configurations for different spaces and needs.
