

Intel

(Technology)

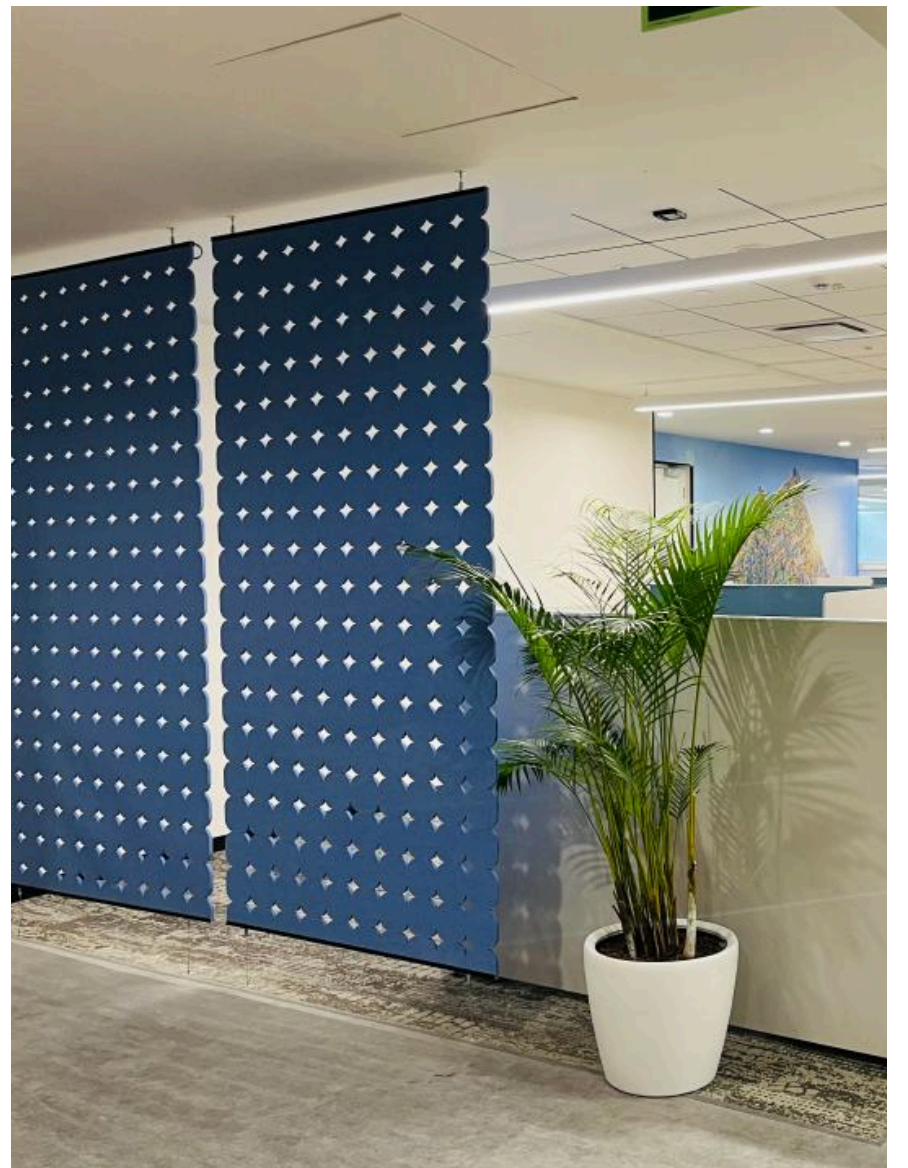

Intel, a leading technology company needed an aesthetic workspace to reflect its brand identity and create an impression. So, their brief was simple. They required brand-cohesive color usage throughout their workplace and a strong emphasis on privacy and productivity.

Grasping client needs, we provided a comprehensive solution portfolio of individual pods, space dividers, and ceiling enhancers to boost performance and focus while maintaining a strong sense of visual appeal. We tailored the color palette to match Intel's branding. Our advanced hardware systems discreetly concealed mechanisms to give a chic modern appearance. Through meticulous research and development, we customized our solutions to suit Intel's workspace needs.
