

Mastercard

(Technology)

Mastercard is a global technology company specialized in providing payment solutions. It connects individuals and businesses to digitally secure transaction processing. The company wanted to have a workplace showcasing a sense of modernity and grace.

The customized acoustic ceiling panels are designed in an organic pattern to bring more creativity to the space. A bright warm color scheme makes the space appear energetic and vibrant. The use of space dividers invites flexibility to the workspace as people can curate their work environments to suit their individual needs. A pattern of geometric shapes in vivid colors adds an element of visual interest to the office.
