Targray Group is an agricultural products conglomerate, with verticals of sourcing, transportation, trading, and storage. Its supply inventory is designed to reduce the global carbon footprint. Thus, the company required its acoustic solutions to replicate the same as an extension of its persona.

As a brand that values sustainability, all our acoustic solutions are curated with a careful selection of low-impact materials and finishes. Resounding with Targray's ideology, we integrated acoustic panels in their meeting room to aid effective brainstorming sessions. We helped create a thriving work environment using bright-coloured acoustic panels to depict vibrance and energy. Using felt sculpt panels, we customized geometric shapes to align with Targray's vision of form and function.
